THE SECOND WARD.

A Rousing and Enthusiastic Meeting of the Democracy of the Second Ward -The Big Gun Salutes.

A Ward Club Formed -List of Members -Election of Officers - Speeches by Messrs. Sykes, Gantt, and Logwood.

The National Contest Reviewed-Tilden and Hendricks-fhe Present Deplorable Condition of the Country-The Remedy.

Last night the Democrats of the second ward met in the city hall to perfect arrangements for the organization of a Tilden and Hendricks club. Previous to the assembling of the meeting, General Thomas O'Sullivan, with his corps of officers, fired a salute, the "Little Democrat! sending forth its warlike intonations so loudly as to enthuse the citizens of the second ward, and jar the chandellers and windows of the city hall. The "Little Democrat's" boom soon added to the number of persons present, and when the meeting was called to order by Colonel John Don-ovan, the attendance was quite large, embracing a representative class of citizens who manifested unusual interest and see med thoroughly enthused upon the subject of organizing a Tilden and Handah ks ciub. We trust that the other wards in the city will follow the example of the second and third wards in their successful efforts to organize clubs, which will be of great importance in furthering the local election. PERMANENT ORGANIZATION. The committee on permanent organization submitted the following report, which was adopted: "Your committee on permanent organization offer the following: "This club shall be known as the Second Ward Tilden and Hendricks Democratic and Conservative club. "The officers shall consist of a president, three vice-presidents, secretary and treasurer.

"We, the citizens of the second ward, being desirous to secure the election of 8. J. Tilden and Thomas A. Hendricks to the offices of President and Vice-President of the United States, and deeming the best way to secure such ends is by organization, hereby append our signatures as members of Second Ward Tilden and Hendricks Democratic and Conservative club, and agree to be governed by the laws and regulations established by said club. We cordially invite all citizens of the second ward who favor reform and good government to unite with us in our endeavors to secure this result by the election of Tilden and Hendricks. "S. B. ROBINS, Chairman." ELECTION OF OFFICERS. On motion of Mr. Phil Mallon, the meeting resolved to elect the officers were then selected: W. A. M'Cloy, president; J. R. Miller, first vice-president; John Wende', second vice president; Ex-Governor Isham G. Harris. hird vice-president; W. J. M'Keon, secretary; Dr. D. F. Goodyear, treas-

PRESIDENT M'CLOY'S REMARKS. Mr. M'Cloy, upon taking the chair, thanked the meeting for the honor conferred, and announced the meeting

On motion of P. W. Maley, Esq., the vice-presidents were requested to occupy sears withing the inclosure.

MAJOR W. J. SYKES being called for and introduced, ad dressed the meeting upon the political situation. He was pleased to meet the second ward Democracy, but as there was a time for all things, he would not speak long. He congratulated the meeting upon its harmonious organization for the purpose of entering into a very important political contest. Were it otherwise he would not be present, for he wanted no office, and merely wanted to do his duty. He felt that the prosperity of this country and its happiness depended upon this contest. It was s free country, every man had a right to think as he pleases, and he would not abuse any who deserted the Democratic party. All who left them were going to a political grave, for ten men joined where one left. This was not a contest of sectional interest, but one of reform, this being the great issue. He had nothing personally against Hayes as a man, his respectability, his talent, still he represented Grantism, and was, therefore, to be held responsible for it. In comparison with Samuel J. Tilden, it was a pigmy by the side of a giant. Major Sykes then showed the decrease of the nation's prosperity, the decline in values, and the wretched condition of he people, which demanded a change, for the salvation of the country depended upon it. In God's name, for the sake of these people, their wives and children, let us have a change; it surely cannot be worse than the present condition, and he thought, with Tilden as Pres dent, it would be far better for every class and every interest. He reviewed Hayes's letter, showing its sectional character and the insult to the peaceful communites of the south. It may ignorance, and, therefore excusable. lie illustrated the subject by a pleasant joke, and referred to the report of the congressional committee, stating that the colored lady, Frances Thompson, had been outraged, when in fact, that creature is a man. This is a specimen of the outrages that the Radicals manufacture in the south, and about which Hayes writes in his letter. He was satisfied that he was on the winning and the right side, and the Republicans had better now eat all the chicken pie in reach for they would never get another elice. Mr. Hayes may be a good man, but he always judged a person by what he does, not what he says. Mr. Hayes is now for the third time governor of Ohio, and he signed a bill which increases the taxes of the State. Governor Tilden beat General Dix by fifty thousand maority, and God only knows how much he will beat Hays in New York. With-in eighteen mouths he has reduced the taxes of New York from sixteen million dollars to eight million. Thus while Hayes is running up the tax, Tilden is running it down, and what he has done n New York he will do for the nation. ennessee pays ten million dollars annually to the United States government, and this is the cause of the present condition of the State. Elect Tilden and Hendricks, and an era of prosperity will come upon this country such as was never seen here before. He alluded to those pretty birds, Babcock and Belknap, who look so pret'y in their official plumage. They were pretty birds until all their feathers were shot off, and then they looked like toad-frogs. Bristow, Dyer and Jewell, and every man in the Republican party who has tried

COLONEL GEORGE GANTT next addressed the meeting, and was here merely to give aid and encourage-ment to the objects of the organization, could they win the fight, for there is nothing in the Democratic platform they need fear; it is sourd, strong and glorious, broad enough for the whole nation to stand upon; not only strong, but it is leaded down with men of brains, of bril-top and bettom are all good. Hayes is a middle man, a man of negative character. They have to atk who Hayes and Wheeler are, but all know Tilden and Hendricks. The Radicals invite the young men to join that party for the sake of spoils. Such temptations should be met with scorn, and the answer should be: 'Get thee behind me, Satan!" Among the new recruits was Frances Thompson, who is now a voter, but it is not certain whether the thirteenth or fourteenth amendment would bover her, for she is now covered in a different way from what the congressional committee reported. There is no room on the Damccratic platform for Frances Thompson, the Babcocks and the Belknaps. The speaker paid a high compliment to the "brilliant, the distinguished, and the accomplished Schurz." At St. Louis they selected the grandest and most dis'ingulahed chief of the Demogratic party. He went for him because Schurts says go for him; the Avalanche said go for him; the Cincinnati Commercial go for him, and all the Independent press said go for him. Both the young and the old should feel proud in following the leadership of Samuel J. Tilden, the greatest of all living Americans, and one whom God has sent here to purify official corruption. The Democrats, Old Whigs and all others, who want reform, mean to put him in power. In all emergencies God has raised up great men for reformers, and Samuel Tilden is the man sent to do the work. Cortainments. The platform, the ticket, the rupt influences in the Republican party were too strong to let Bristow get upon the platform. He regretted to see so much meanness in that platform. There is not a rotten plank; not an ituclean spot in the Democratic platform, its nominee being a man who fears to do nothing save wrong. Hayes had to get help to write his own letter, and can be led around by the rolitical leaders. Tilden writes his ow letters, doss his own thinking; for he is a leader of leaders, and is chief of chiefs, and will be the head of the country. He is the doctor who will purge the country of corruption, and will restore it to prosperity. The Republicans said Blaine didn't smell well, his character was in question, and a dark horse was brought forward. The speaker alluded to Tilden's opposition to the thieving ring, which was robbing the State, solitary and alone. He is still willing to fight for economy, retrenchment and reform, and to make the people happier. He is now the leader in New York, having led his army against Tweed and Eweeney, and their ring. He recounted the brilliant deeds and mighty reforms of Tilden in New York. The speaker said Hendricks is a better man than can be found in the entire Republican party, and spoke of his efforts in behalf of literty and reform. The Republicans needed a bloody shirt in this section, and they can find one, the one France: Thompson wears, and which ought to be waved in the air. and Barbour Lewis allowed to smell it. Colonel Gantt urged the organization of a club in every ward and district. COLONEL THOS. H. LOUWOCD spoke next. He said that values are daily decreasing, employment scarcer every day, and distress all over the country, the greatest burden being upon the laboring classes. All this was due to the corrupt administration of the country. Investigation shows that since the Republicans went into office the people have paid enough taxes to pay the public debt three times. The money has been stolen by the Republican party, which now pretends to want reform. The people want an economical administration and relief from the present troubles. Is it not less probable that the party in power, which has brought on all these troubles, will reform than a new party? The people see that corruption has been from one end to another in the Republican party, and now look to Tilden to drive these thieves out of office and put honest men in power. The only issue is honesty in this government, and the only way to do this is to drive the present thieves All of the speeches were well received. and created general enthusiam, frequently expressed by applause. Colonel Donovan presented the lowing resolution .

Resolved, That a committee of three from this ward be appointed by the club to confer with a similar committee from the different wards in regard to organizing a central club of the city of Mem-

Adoped; and the chair appointed Colonel John Donovan, James A. Newsom and Phil J. Mallon. During the meeting a large number of names were secured on the list of members. The list will be kept at Dr. Goodyear's store, where persons who wish to join the club can attach their names.

A HEROIC SOLDIER.

etter from Dr. T. D. Johnson, of the Egyptian Army-The Abyssinian Expedition and Its Herrors.

Below is given an extract from a letter of Dr. T. D. Johnson, a well-known Tennessean, who served in the Confederate army, and last year went to Egypt and entered the service of the khedive The letter is dated Abyssinia, June 1st. and the Clarksville Chronicle, in publishing it, says: "No comments of ours are needed, for it tells a tale of shocking suffering and wonderful escape, such as few romances can match in interest. Dr. Johnston's friends (and who in Clarksville is not his friend) will read it with an absorbing interest," The indignities I was subjected to during my stay with the Abyssinians were horrible, to say nothing of my great anxiety lest I should be whipped or mutdered. I feared the former most, although there was great danger of the latter; as you will know when I tell you that of over six hundred of us captured, only one hundred and sixty returned the others having been shot on the third day after the battle. But God raised me up friends even among these people, escially Ress Waldo Classie, the Prince of Lemsine and Amhara, the most powerful man in Abyssinis, next to the king. He sent for me, and after one or two interviews, made the man who was my captor return my clothing, and ordered me to eat with him, which I continued to do until sent back to the Egyptian camp. In one of my earlier con-versations with him he told me that the man who captured me told him that he had prevented others from killing me which he did six or eight times on the day I was captured, so that he might kill me himself; that he had gotten ready to shoot me several times, but could not look in my face and do it so he had made me march in front of his horse to shoot me in the back, but that he couldn't even shoot me when I was not looking at nim, and he felt certain that God was protecting me, as he had never had any trouble shooting a man before. The prince added: 'You are the only white man in the midst of thousands of black ones, and under such circumstances if you will pray to God he will hear you and send you back to your friends.' I need hardly add that this advice, coming from a man who had saved my life several times, made a deep impression upon me. When I left the camp the Rass-prince gave me a cup, saying: 'King John had killed the rhinoceres, given him the horn, and he had the eup made from it, and wished me to keep it as a remembrance of him.' He also gave me back my pearl ring, which he had taken from my captor a few days after the battle for that purpose. I shall always feel grateful to this man, who, but for the want of proper training and association, would be one of the best men I ever met. The troops are ordered to return to Cairo on

Very Severe Criticism of the Manner isms of an Able Lawyer and Upright Judge.

Some severe and trenchant criticisms npon Judge Emmons have recently appeared in the Cincinnati Enquirer, among them the following from a lawyer " NASHVILLE, TENN., July, 1876.

"To the Editor of the Enquirer:

"A short time since I read observations in your journal under the above heading, for which the lawyers of four States should be grateful. The conduct of the judge alluded to excites the inquiry, Is he a tyrant? Any lawyer is bound to answer that the conduct of the judge is tyrannical; and, what is worse, that justice is made uncertain by his maneuvers. He takes the bench not to hear, but to be heard, and afrogates to himself the prerogative to domineer over lawyers, old and young, learned and unlearned. His conduct is foreign to modesty and good manners. True, he delights in the word 'brother' and the words 'learned counsel,' as though such stuff justified his insolence. He richly deserves the chastisement of an ndependent press. It will do him good f he is honest, and I believe he is. only will protest do the judge good, but tend to promote a better administration of justice, for as the case now stands he plays with the privileges of the bar and with the law as boys do with toys; and as to the facts in a lawsuit he never learns them, for he will not read Greeneville and all way points. Strict atten-tion paid to all business intrusted to ner cara's For freight and other business apply to J. T. WASHINGTON, Agent, a record himself nor allow counsel to read it. True, he will request counsel to state the facts, but no sooner does the statement begin than the judge begins, too. He interrupts from the jump, and before the scene ends the lawyer is disgusted and Emmons, in his own estimation, is glorified. But, after all, if the lawsuit is decided right, it is an accident, for no judge knows he is right unless he fully knows the facts of the case. I will not say our circuit judge is Buth, not learned in the law. I admit he is learned. The trouble is, he would be both bench and bar. This cannot be, and it is time for a reform or a resignation. I will not give special instances of the conduct and rulings of Emmons,

AT THE CELEBRATED ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.—Owing to the depressed condition of the country, the proprietor has determined to lower his charges, that all may be able to derive the benefits from the use of these justiy celebrated waters. They need no recommendation, since they have so fully established their efficiency through the thousands who have been brought from death wonderful medicinal waters. Since last summer the Chaiybeate Spring, which was opened last year, has been thoroughly analyzed by Professor M. B. Harden, of the V. M. I., of Virginia, and by comparison shows it to be Professor M. B. Harden, of the V. M. I., of Virginia, and by comparison shows it to be fully as strong as "Rawley" of carbonaste of iron, having a small quantity more than one and a small quantity less than the other two springs. So in addition to the water that has made these springs so famous, the proprietor takes pleasure in announcing that he can furnish those who may need to drink either separately or in connection with the more celebrated waters of these springs a pure carbonate of Iron (chalybeale) water, inferior to none, and equaled only by Rawley, in this State. This at the very cheap rates, with accommodation fully up to any previous year. First month of four weeks, $30; two months, eight weeks, $100. eight weeks, $100.
